

World-Wide News Coverage
Given Impartially by Associated Press

Hope Star

The Weather

ARKANSAS—Partly cloudy Monday night and Tuesday; cooler Tuesday, and in northwest portion Monday night.

VOLUME 40—NUMBER 297

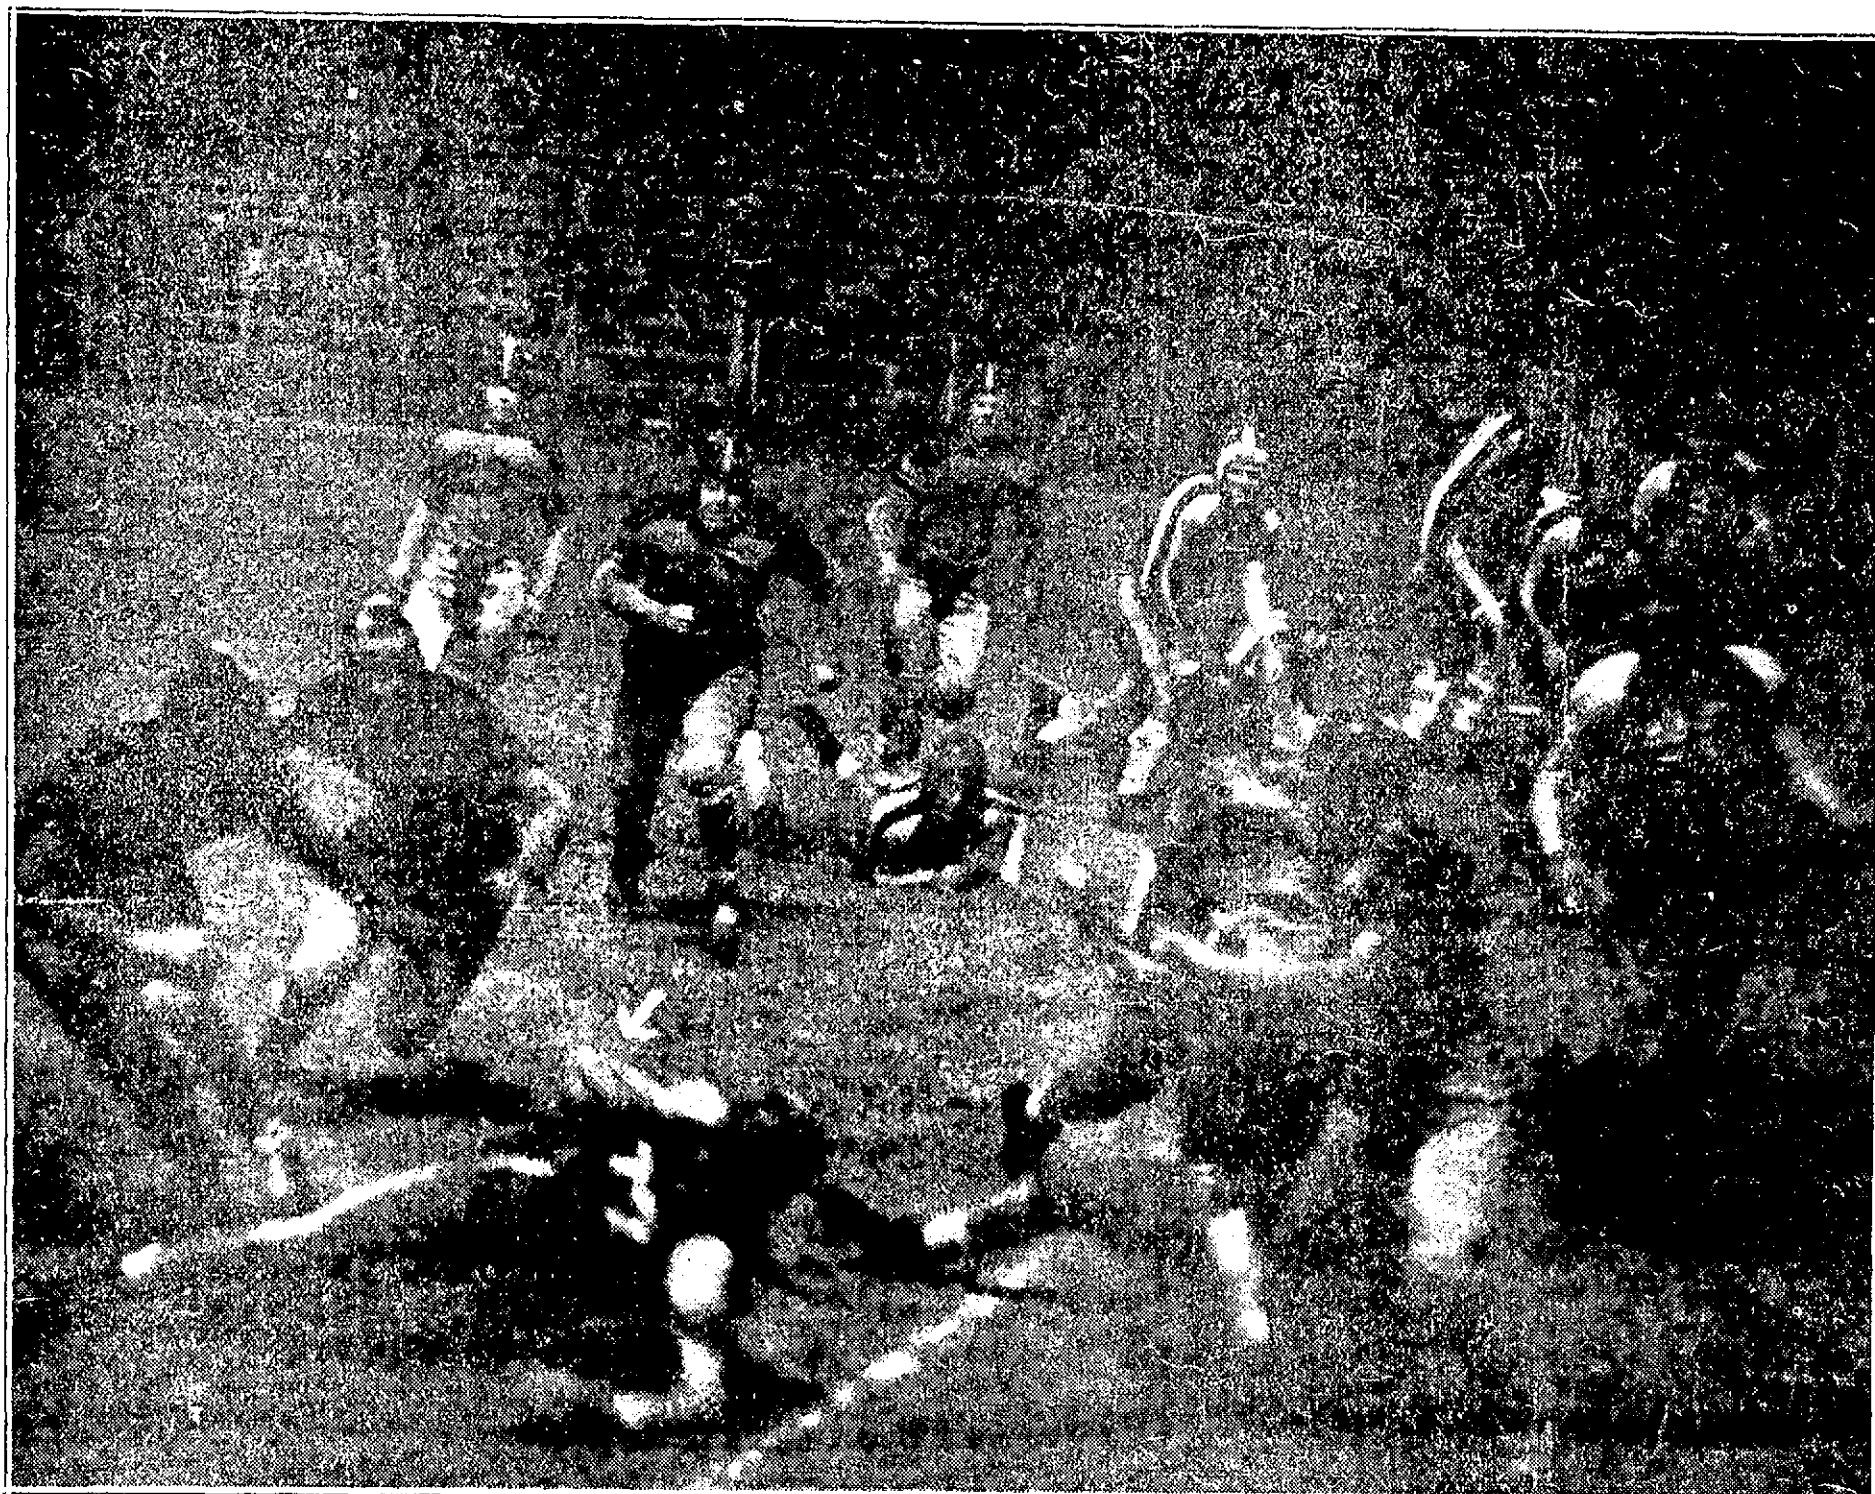

HOPE, ARKANSAS, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1939

PRICE 5c COPY

FRENCH HIT SIEGFRIED LINE

Exhibits Ready for County Fair Opening on Tuesday Night

A Touchdown Play in Hope's 50-to-0 Triumph Over the Smackover Buckaroos Here Last Friday Night

Roy Taylor, Bobcat back (No 77, with the arrow pointing to the ball), falls across the south goal-line for one of two touchdowns contributing to Hope's smashing 50-to-0 victory over the Smackover Buckaroos here Friday night, September 22.

Although apparently down just short of the goal-line Taylor was still moving when the camera clicked. He ducked to the right, —Hope Star photo, Contax F 15 at 1/125th second, no flashbulb. tripped, and bounced on the goal-line, winding up about two feet over the line.

The Hope blockers are lined up at the right of the picture. Nearest the camera, Bobby Ellen is blocking out a Smackover man. First man beyond Ellen is Baker. Behind Baker is T. Quimby, with Calhoun to the right of Quimby, and Simpson at extreme back. In center background is Captain Joe Eason.

Fair to Officially Open 6 p.m.; War Veterans Guests

Opening Program Dedicated to "Legion Night" at Local Show

CHILDREN, 13, FREE

Some Space Still Available for Commercial Booths at Fair

The Hempstead county fair begins Tuesday night, and Fair park is a beehive of activity. The carpenters are busy building booths, putting up more pens, setting up coops for poultry; the state and federal agencies are all exhibiting their products and communities from all parts of Hempstead County are busy with their exhibits. The carnival people are filtering in with their rides, shows and concessions.

Tuesday night will be Legion night and every member of the American Legion will be the guest of the Hempstead county Fair association. A booth has been given to them where every man who saw service in the World War is asked to register. Every legionario should not only come out but urge those who have not yet joined to come and meet his old buddies and find out about the program of the local post.

There is still some space left for commercial booths. Anyone interested should come out and select a place before the good ones are all gone. The exhibit building will be open Monday night until 10 o'clock. Riley Lewallen will be in charge of all space in the exhibit building.

The fair will open officially Tuesday at 6 p. m. when the gates will be closed and admission will be charged. All children under 13 years of age will be admitted free during the entire fair and all school children, regardless of age, and teachers on Friday, September 23.

Pasture Meeting to Be Held On Friday

Good Program Arranged at University Experiment Station

The annual pasture meeting will be held at the University of Arkansas, Fruit and Truck Branch Experiment Station Friday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. at the G. W. Ware, assistant director, in charge of the station.

An outstanding program has been arranged. Visitors will have an opportunity to see how worn out hill land has been converted to 8-months pastures which have averaged more than 400 pounds of beef per acre per year.

Dean Walter R. Harbaker, outstanding livestock authority and assistant director of the College of Agriculture, Professor Martin Nelson, chief of the Department of Agronomy, and one of the South's greatest pasture authorities, M. W. Muldrow, extension livestock specialist, Paul Corwith, extension dairy specialist, and J. F. Babus, district agent, will be present to assist with the demonstrations in sodding, fertilizing, seeding, liming, plowing, and mowing.

The meeting affords farmers and livestock men an opportunity to get first hand information and to discuss their individual problems with leading authorities. A large crowd is expected to be present from a dozen counties of southwest Arkansas.

5 Dead, 24 Gone in California Storm

Heat Wave Is Broken With Vengeance in Los Angeles Area

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—With five known dead and 24 others believed to have drowned, a series of heavy rains for the safety of some persons unaccounted for in Sunday's wind and rain storm which struck California shore, ending the most severe heat wave in southern California's history.

Approximately 500 pieces of rubber in the form of another are used in the average car.

Durward F. Kyle, 46, of L. R., Is Heart Victim

LITTLE ROCK —(AP)—Durward F. Kyle, 46, architectural inspector for the Federal Housing Administration in Arkansas, widely known over the state, died early Monday at his home here following an heart attack.

Senate Delays on Neutrality Issue

Agrees to Borah's Request for Delay Until Thursday

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The senate foreign relations committee Monday delayed action until Thursday on the administration's new neutrality legislation.

The delay was agreed to at the request of Senator Borah, Idaho Republican, ranking minority committee member, opponent of President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the existing arms embargo.

The new bill carries out President Roosevelt's recommendation for a real arms embargo but provides powerful congressional checks on executive discretion.

Band Membership Growing Steadily

Director Cannon Expects to Have 100 Members By October 1

With an enthusiasm unmatched in recent years, the instrumental music department of the Hope public schools is growing daily. With eighty-one students enrolled at the present time, the list is far from complete and the goal of 100 band members by October 1 is within striking distance.

Following is the list of new students brought up to date: Clarinets—Neoma Dickey, Robbie Joyce Formby, Boyce Sterling, George Ware, Jr., Rose Myra Dossert, Eva Jean Milam, Elizabeth Ellis, Martin Ann Atkins, Alice Lyle, Alice Lorraine Heard.

Flutes—Melba Moore, Glen Hart, Saxophones—Ophelia Hamilton, Dorothy Nesbitt.

Corsets—Mary Sue Phillips, Aubrey Collier, Doreen Graves, Carlton Mitchell, Joseph Floyd.

Tronbones—James Roy Gates, W. T. Caldwell, Jr., Harold Gunter, Billy Joe Morton.

Drums—John Herman Kuespert, Jack Hay.

"I have been able to contact only a small percentage of the parents who have called me for conferences," Mr. Cannon said Monday. "But I hope to be able to reach all of them within this week. The rental plan for buying instruments is still available and I want everyone to take advantage of it."

There are two hand-owned instruments at Oakesley school that are available yet and the bandmaster is anxious to get them placed this week.

Floyd Gibbons, 52, Ace Reporter, Dies

Heart Attack Kills Him on Eve of Departure for the War

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP)—Death cancelled the last reported assignment of Floyd Gibbons, 52, globe-trotting war correspondent for a quarter of a century.

In the midst of plans to go abroad to cover the European war, the noted newspaper, radio and movie reporter died Sunday night after a heart attack at his home here.

Gibbons was born in Chicago and had been a reporter for the Chicago Tribune for 25 years. He was married and had three children.

He was a member of the Chicago Press Club and the Chicago Newspaper Guild. He was also a member of the Chicago Athletic Club and the Chicago Country Club.

Fierce Artillery Fire on Western Front; Drive Begun

Airplane Motor Factory Reported Bombed by Allies

BERLIN DENIES IT

Germans Claim Submarine Has Sunk a British Destroyer

PARIS France —(AP)—French troops struck the German positions in the Harcourt mountains Monday under cover of heavy artillery fire which French dispatches said, was bombarding the main fortifications of Germany's Siegfried line.

The entire Western front sprang to life. Military advisers said shells screamed across the Rhine for the first time since the first days of the war.

The Siegfried and Maginot lines are separated only by the river along the southern half of the German-French frontier.

Russia and Neighbors MOSCOW, Russia —(AP)—Soviet Russia, with her position vitally strengthened in the first weeks of the war opened commercial and diplomatic talks Monday with her northern neighbor, Estonia.

The conference started as Russia banned foreign ships from traveling the river, Neva, which flows into the Baltic.

Germany Factory Bombed ROMANSCHORN, Switzerland —(AP)—One of Germany's main airplane motor factories was reported Monday to have been put out of action by bombs from French or British planes staging a raid on the Zepelin works at Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sunday night.

The first alarm in the Friedrichshafen area started searchlights on the Swiss side estimated at least 30 bombs were dropped by the raiders despite heavy anti-aircraft fire, which included tracer bullets.

Unconfirmed reports reaching here said several direct hits on a factory had been scored.

British Destroyer Sunk BERLIN, Germany —(AP)—Sink-

(Continued on Page Four)

Seven Convicted for Drunkenness

Dave Hicks Found Guilty for Possessing Untaxed Whisky

Charge of drunkenness and disturbing the peace comprised the majority of cases heard Monday in Hope municipal court. The results:

Forfeiting cash bonds of $10 for drunkenness were: E. Pool, Jess Atkins, Claude Glenn, D. B. Russell, Sevier Stuart, L. C. Tidwell, Smad Talley pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was fined $10.

Ervin Moore and Eulen Huntley pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and each was fined $5. Mary Lee Jones was fined $2.50 for disturbing the peace. C. W. Witherspoon was fined $2.50, and gave notice of appeal to circuit court. He was released under $110 bond.

Dave Hicks, possession of untaxed liquor, fined $25. Notice of appeal was given, with bond being set at $150.

Emmet Curry and Alvester Glasgow pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace. Each was fined $2.50.

Caldonia Moore Jones was acquitted on a charge of possession untaxed liquor.

Rever Chambers was fined $20 on a charge of maiming a mule. He gave notice of appeal to circuit court, bond being set at $110.

A Thought Misery assails riches as lightning does the highest towers. — So do riches destroy the virtue of their possessor. — Burton.

First Conference Battle On Friday

Bobcats Prepare for Hard Game Friday Night at El Dorado

The Hope High School football team Monday looked forward to the first conference battle of the season and the toughest foe to date in the Friday night clash with the El Dorado Wildcats at El Dorado.

The "Hoops" played the Bobcats as underdogs, El Dorado having defeated Haynesville 14 to 6, and the Bobcats having whipped Haynesville at Hope 13 to 6.

However, Coach Hannigan may have an "ace in the hole" in the return to the lineup of Jimmy Daniels, quarter back, who saw only a few moments of action in the first game two weeks ago because of injuries.

Daniels is a fine blocker, a good defensive player and as a hard runner. His ability in adding Taylor back up the line should add much defensive strength to the Bobcat team.

Whether a special team will be chartered to El Dorado was undecided Monday.

Statistics of the Hope-Smackover game, compiled by Mr. Roy Hannigan, follows:

First down — Hope 21, Smackover 4. Average on kickoffs for Hope 9 for 24 yards. Yards gained returning kickoffs by Smackover, total 72. Points — Hope 4 for an average of 39 yards. Smackover 11 for an average of 39 yards.

(Continued on Page Four)

Louisiana Couple Hurt In Collision

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. DeCalongne In Julia Chester Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. DeCalongne of New Orleans were recovering in Julia Chester hospital Monday of injuries sustained in an automobile accident nine miles west of Hope on Highway 67 late Saturday afternoon.

Both sustained lacerations about the head and face and were bruised about the body. Mrs. DeCalongne lost two teeth when she was thrown against the windshield. Their condition is not serious.

Mr. DeCalongne, about 58, is reported to be a chemist. Their automobile, a new sedan, bore a Shreveport, La., city license tag. They gave their address as 2510 Barracks Avenue, New Orleans.

Their car collided with an automobile occupied by residents of Corsicana, Texas, whose names were not learned. They were not injured.

During 1938, federal state and local gasoline tax costs amounted to a sum of $919,267,000, compared to registration and license fees of $388,825,000.

Cotton

NEW YORK —(AP)—October cotton futures opened Monday at 9.01 and closed at 9.05. Middling spot 9.05.

(Continued on Page Four)

Soviet Dictator Stalin Lives Simply, But Works Ruthlessly

Powerful World Figure Appears in Public Without Any of Customary Decorations on Uniform

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Stalin is the best possible material out of which to create a "Man of Mystery." a "Red Czar," a "Sphinx of the Kremlin." That has been freely done in stories about him.

He is an Asiatic, not a European, and none of it. He is relentless and proud of it. He is relentless and in his private life he is a simple man. He is a simple man and in private life he is a simple man. He is a simple man and in private life he is a simple man.

When you combine all these things with the fact that even the Russians know little of him until he was suddenly seen in the "dinner" seat, you have the elements of a man of mystery.

First, he is master of the art of the Tammany sense. He is no brilliant theoretician, though his writings in Pravda during the critical period of the Bolshevik revolution had power and sense. But few men are last intimates. The years of secret conspiracy marked him with an instinctive distrust of other men. He has been interviewed a bare half-dozen times.

Dictator Minus Decorations He lives simply, and always has. His offices in the Kremlin are simple almost to the point of bareness. His home is a simple house in the city. He is a simple man and in private life he is a simple man.

There is still in him a contempt for individual life that was there when he organized and led robbery parties which murdered guards and stole money for party work in Tiflis in the early days of his revolutionary career.

(Continued on Page Four)

Prescott to Get a $35,000 Armory

Arkadelphia, Paris, Rogers Are Also on List of Projects

LITTLE ROCK —(AP)—Following an announcement in Washington that the Arkansas National Guard had been authorized to increase its personnel by 338 enlisted men, state WPA Administrator Floyd Sharp announced over the week-end proposed projects for WPA construction of National Guard armories at Paris, Logan county, and Jonesboro had been finally approved.

A work order for beginning construction on one or both of the armories probably will be issued within two weeks. Mr. Sharp said the projects probably would be completed because of a recent order from national WPA headquarters to give preference to projects connected with national defense.

Approval of the Washington WPA office of proposed projects for new National Guard armories at Arkadelphia, Paris, Rogers and Prescott and for a major remodeling job on the Fort Smith armory is expected soon. Asst. Adm. Gen. Patrick C. Harris said applications for the projects were filed several weeks ago.

The new armories will be valued at approximately $35,000. The 1939 legislature increased the tax on per capita betting at the Hot Springs race track from four to five per cent, allocation

(Continued on Page Four)

SOCIETY

Mrs. Sid Henry

Telephone 321

Full Hats

Say, have you seen the new fall hats? Along the main parade? Like odds and ends of centuries? Our ancient fathers made? Tall Cossack models and Buccaneers? From long forgotten races? And queer designs that pigmies wore? To match their grotesque faces? The circus will not come this fall. Their cloaks are said you know? They can't meet competition since "The ladies stole the show!" —Selected

Miss Josie Anderson of Little Rock was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and other relatives.

Little Miss Jo Ann Shields, celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Shields on North Elm Street. Attractive favors were given and there was a beautiful birthday cake with lighted candles, which was cut and served with Nurgene to twenty-two young friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stang and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Geller and family have returned to their homes in Highland, Ill. after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heine had at Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Heine and Mrs. Olive King of Texas.

Joe Martin School of Dancing

Opens for Fall

Enrollment

Sept. 26th

All Types of

Dancing Taught

Class and Private Instruction

Special classes for Beginners and Tiny-Tots

Latest in Dance Creation

Studio Located at Mrs. R. H. Barr Residence

Phone 688 or Visit Studio 312 North Hervey

EXTRA - EXTRA LOUIS - PASTOR FIGHT PICTURES

Blow by Blow Round by Round All 11 Rounds THURSDAY - FRIDAY Matinee Thursday 8 Days From Ringside

Arkansas' largest and finest

Greatest MARCH of TIME

All About Our Air Force and Trouble in Europe MONDAY - TUESDAY Matinee Tuesday

SHE LIVED ON THE BACK STREET OF LOVE!

IRENE DUNNE CHARLES BOYER

WHEN TOMORROW COMES

Barbara O'Neil - Onslow Stevens - Nedda Westman - Fritz Feld

WEDNESDAY Mystery-Murder-Chills

ROBERT YOUNG FLORENCE RICE

'Miracles for Sale'

Fort Worth Takes Nashville, 10 to 2

Ray Starr, Vol Castoff, Gets Revenge in Dixie Opener

FORT WORTH, Tex. —(AP)—Baseball's old drama, the castoff's revenge got another showing Sunday when Ray Starr, Fort Worth's old man, fanned the Nashville Vols, his old mates, 10 to 2, in the opening Dixie Series game. The crowd was 7,300.

The elongated veteran, sold to Fort Worth by Nashville early in the season when it appeared it would happen, had a 10-to-0 shutout, a record away with two out in the ninth inning, but utility man Karl Kott, playing left field, misjudged pinch batter Bill Dobbie's screamer to left and let in a run.

Starr struck out nine batters, three times fanning Bert Haas, whose 365 average paced the Southern Association fallers this year. Most of the Nashville hits came in the late innings after Starr had been struck to a handsome lead.

Walter Cazen, a stout Polish boy, homered twice and hammered across five runs while Kott drove across three runs with a double and single. Every Fort Worth batter but Rabbit McLaughlin, second baseman, got a hit off three Nashville pitchers.

From nine in the second and three more in the third, the result of some late pitching by Cazen and Kott and the inability of left fielder Duggs of Nashville to get around fast on an injured leg, gave Fort Worth a ball game.

Mrs. J. R. Scott, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. Bert Maubach and Mrs. Ned Haas, have returned home after a week stay on Lake Hamilton in Hot Springs.

STANDINGS

National League

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	104	43	.708
Boston	87	60	.592
Cleveland	82	66	.554
Detroit	77	70	.524
Washington	63	85	.428
Philadelphia	53	95	.358
St. Louis	41	106	.279

Sunday's Results:
Detroit 2-9, Cleveland 1-1.
Boston 11-1, St. Louis 9-3.
New York 6, Philadelphia 4.
New York 2, Washington 2.

Games Monday:
St. Louis at Chicago.
Only game scheduled.

American League

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Cincinnati	93	54	.633
St. Louis	89	57	.610
Baltimore	78	66	.542
Chicago	80	71	.529
New York	72	72	.500
Pittsburgh	67	81	.452
Boston	60	83	.420
Philadelphia	44	101	.303

Sunday's Results:
New York 5-3, Boston 4-5.
Baltimore 3-6, Philadelphia 1-1.
Cincinnati 11, Chicago 1.
St. Louis 9, Chicago 1.

Games Monday:
Boston at New York.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
Only games scheduled.

No War Yet—In Hollywood

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(AP)—The motion picture public need not expect a flood of war movies, while the fighting is going on in Europe, Jesse L. Lasky says.

"A lot of war pictures are inevitable," the veteran producer says, "but there will not be many—until the war is over. Then the public can expect a cycle of war films."

It is estimated that the motor vehicle traffic accidents happening during the 1938 cost the motorists of the United States $750,000,000 in wage loss, medical expense and overhead cost of insurance, plus another $750,000,000 for property damage.

Just Dudley Mays gave the Razorbacks plenty of strength around the middle of the line.

SERIAL STORY

WORKING WIVES

BY LOUISE HOLMES
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Marian blames Dan's lack of ambition for the failure of their marriage. When she argues with Dolly about married women working, Dolly changes the subject to Randy's early. Dolly is anxious to have Randy like her.

CHAPTER XIX

WITHOUT speaking to Dan, Marian went back to her own apartment and prepared for bed. It was a rite and she never neglected one detail. She heard a cribbage game going on across the hall. She did not know when Dan came in.

The next morning she awoke to cold reality. The fortifying wall had crumbled during the night and with difficulty she erected it again. She and Dan breakfasted politely, they might have been mere acquaintances. Driving to the office, Marian felt unable to face the day without a better understanding with Dan.

"We haven't much except each other, Dan," she said.

He answered brusquely, "We lost each other a long time ago."

"How?"

He scowled. "I wouldn't know. We haven't hung together. We haven't had the same interests."

"Is it too late for us to go back and try again?"

"I'm afraid so. The thread which held us together has snapped and stretched and finally snapped. I think it snapped last Sunday night."

Frankly, she asked, "Couldn't we find the ends and tie them together again? It might not be just the same, but better than this. Dan, I need you."

His laugh faded on her overwrought sensibilities. "Think it over, Marian, and you'll find that you don't need me at all, not in any way."

MARIAN got from the car at the building entrance. Without a word, she hurried through the revolving doors. She was furious. She had humbled herself to Dan Harkness for the last time. She had been a good wife to him, faithful and true. She had loved him in spite of his shortcomings. And now he had the unmitigated nerve to affront her advances with programs—a broken thread—indeed. All right—if he wanted it that way—Mounting anger carried her to the closet where she slammed her hat into the box.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

A little voice whispered, "He's always failed you. What did you expect?"

With tightly compressed lips, she went to her desk, lifted the paper knife and began going through the mail. The morning passed on the leaden feet of duty. Marian felt Mr. Fellows' eyes upon her, speculative, somehow regretful. When he said, "Sally Blake can get out the letters from now on, Marian, it will give you more time to work on the charts," she turned away, her eyes blinded with weak tears.

By finding a new job for herself, she had again defeated her purpose. With Sally constantly at Mr. Fellows' elbow, it meant that Marian lost intimate touch with office affairs. It meant that, more and more, Sally would be consulted, that she would know the answers. Making the charts was a routine task; any one of the girls, with a little help, could have done it. Why had she let herself in for such a tragic miscarriage of plans?

SHORTLY before noon Carmo called, Marian was in no mood for Carmo.

"How about lunch today?" she asked.

"I'm so sorry," Marian lied. "I have an engagement today."

There was a little disappointed silence, then, "I wanted to ask a favor of you."

"I'll do anything, Carmo."

"I thought you might see Randy. I have a feeling that he's interested in Dolly. Am I right or wrong?" trying to be flippant.

"More or less right."

"I thought so. Wouldn't you know it, Marian? Men are such fools, a pretty baby stare—the 'little woman' complex." There was a weary, bewildered bitterness in her voice.

"Listen, Carmo—I'm supposed to be working."

"Oh, yes—sorry. This is what I wanted to say. I just learned that the girl Pete married—Julie!"—the name on her lips had a twisted sound—"was Randy's secretary."

"Yes, I know."

"Find out about her, will you, Marian? How old is she? Where did she come from? Are they happy or—has Pete sold himself down the river to punish me?"

She was crying, the questions came jerkily.

"I'm going to see Julie tonight, Carmo. Instantly Marian wished she had not told Carmo that. No use keeping the thing alive. The sooner she found a life of her own, now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Turning to the mirror, she looked into terrified eyes and the anger rolled away, leaving her shaken and filled with dread. What if the doctor had been right? Why had Dan stopped loving her now—oh, why? She needed him, never had she needed him so desperately.

Carmo pounced. "Where are you going to see her?"

"I don't know just where we are going," Marian hedged. "Randy is having a little dinner."

"Oh, Randy—he lives at the Medinah Club, he always entertains there—he said the food was the finest in Chicago—him-ni."

Although they were miles apart, Marian could read her thoughts. "Is it a party, Marian?"

"Randy is taking Dolly, Dan, and me. He included Pete and—Julie."

"I see. Tomorrow, then," Carmo sounded hurried.

MARIAN fretted over the situation. She considered asking Randy to change the location of his dinner. Finally, assuring herself that Carmo had too much poise and dignity to do anything melodramatic, she forgot her.

Marian left the office early. At the beauty parlor, her own special operator combed her hair and changed the polish on her nails. Dan picked her up and they drove home in a nerve-debilitating silence.

Later, dressed in the new Eisenberg, Marian might have stepped from the cover of a fashion magazine. Even her face might have belonged to the pictured girl, lifeless, carefully expressionless. She and Dan went to Dolly's apartment to await Randy's coming.

Dolly's attire, aided and abetted by Marian, was above reproach. There was a beautiful sheen to her amber-colored hair, the little pancake hat sat cunningly over one eye. The black suit fitted her round, pretty figure snugly, her white gloves were new, not a sign of a handkerchief was visible. Finer radiance softened her eyes and sweetly curved her lips. Dan looked from her to Marian and back again.

Randy came and Marian was amazed at Dolly's easy, charming manner. They drove to the club in Randy's car, low and low, streamlined as a torpedo. Marian and Dan sat in the wide back seat, far apart, an eternity apart in spirit. Weariness dragged at Marian. The evening had become a test of endurance.

At the club, going with Dolly to the ladies' lounge, Marian's heart skipped a beat. Had she seen Carmo at the top of the steps which led to the bar? It couldn't have been Carmo. She had been mistaken. In spite of herself, she had a chilled sense of foreboding.

That woman going down to the bar—she had only seen her back—dark purple gown—rich furs—had Carmo mentioned a purple ensemble?

(To Be Continued)

spots and only through the center were Peace and Clutch able to pick up any yardage.

The latter gained more ground than all the other Tornado backs and did all the passing. Outside of the touchdown scored from far out the only real threat to the El Dorado goal line came in the fourth quarter when the Cats were playing for time.

An intricate play in which three men handled the ball went haywire and the Tornado recovered on the Wildcat 42. Four straight passes failed to pick up a first down and a punt went over the goal line. A return punt was short and again the Tornado was trying for a touchdown from within El Dorado territory.

One pass connected for a first down on the 35 but there the drive sagged and El Dorado took over on downs.

Substitution: El Dorado Barker Ogden, Daugherty, Gray, Scritchfield, Haynesville; Tinsley, Wooten, Paik, Scouting Touchdowns Reece 2, Blythe. Points after touchdown Reece 2, Points El Dorado 5 for average 28 yards; Haynesville 7 for average of 31 yards. First downs El Dorado 12, Haynesville 7. Officials—White (Uchita) Referee—Mason L. SU) Umpire—Wardley Oklahoma—Holmes, Arkansas. Timekeeper, Oliver.

spots and only through the center were Peace and Clutch able to pick up any yardage.

The latter gained more ground than all the other Tornado backs and did all the passing. Outside of the touchdown scored from far out the only real threat to the El Dorado goal line came in the fourth quarter when the Cats were playing for time.

An intricate play in which three men handled the ball went haywire and the Tornado recovered on the Wildcat 42. Four straight passes failed to pick up a first down and a punt went over the goal line. A return punt was short and again the Tornado was trying for a touchdown from within El Dorado territory.

One pass connected for a first down on the 35 but there the drive sagged and El Dorado took over on downs.

Substitution: El Dorado Barker Ogden, Daugherty, Gray, Scritchfield, Haynesville; Tinsley, Wooten, Paik, Scouting Touchdowns Reece 2, Blythe. Points after touchdown Reece 2, Points El Dorado 5 for average 28 yards; Haynesville 7 for average of 31 yards. First downs El Dorado 12, Haynesville 7. Officials—White (Uchita) Referee—Mason L. SU) Umpire—Wardley Oklahoma—Holmes, Arkansas. Timekeeper, Oliver.

spots and only through the center were Peace and Clutch able to pick up any yardage.

The latter gained more ground than all the other Tornado backs and did all the passing. Outside of the touchdown scored from far out the only real threat to the El Dorado goal line came in the fourth quarter when the Cats were playing for time.

An intricate play in which three men handled the ball went haywire and the Tornado recovered on the Wildcat 42. Four straight passes failed to pick up a first down and a punt went over the goal line. A return punt was short and again the Tornado was trying for a touchdown from within El Dorado territory.

One pass connected for a first down on the 35 but there the drive sagged and El Dorado took over on downs.

Substitution: El Dorado Barker Ogden, Daugherty, Gray, Scritchfield, Haynesville; Tinsley, Wooten, Paik, Scouting Touchdowns Reece 2, Blythe. Points after touchdown Reece 2, Points El Dorado 5 for average 28 yards; Haynesville 7 for average of 31 yards. First downs El Dorado 12, Haynesville 7. Officials—White (Uchita) Referee—Mason L. SU) Umpire—Wardley Oklahoma—Holmes, Arkansas. Timekeeper, Oliver.

spots and only through the center were Peace and Clutch able to pick up any yardage.

The latter gained more ground than all the other Tornado backs and did all the passing. Outside of the touchdown scored from far out the only real threat to the El Dorado goal line came in the fourth quarter when the Cats were playing for time.

An intricate play in which three men handled the ball went haywire and the Tornado recovered on the Wildcat 42. Four straight passes failed to pick up a first down and a punt went over the goal line. A return punt was short and again the Tornado was trying for a touchdown from within El Dorado territory.

One pass connected for a first down on the 35 but there the drive sagged and El Dorado took over on downs.

Substitution: El Dorado Barker Ogden, Daugherty, Gray, Scritchfield, Haynesville; Tinsley, Wooten, Paik, Scouting Touchdowns Reece 2, Blythe. Points after touchdown Reece 2, Points El Dorado 5 for average 28 yards; Haynesville 7 for average of 31 yards. First downs El Dorado 12, Haynesville 7. Officials—White (Uchita) Referee—Mason L. SU) Umpire—Wardley Oklahoma—Holmes, Arkansas. Timekeeper, Oliver.

spots and only through the center were Peace and Clutch able to pick up any yardage.

The latter gained more ground than all the other Tornado backs and did all the passing. Outside of the touchdown scored from far out the only real threat to the El Dorado goal line came in the fourth quarter when the Cats were playing for time.

An intricate play in which three men handled the ball went haywire and the Tornado recovered on the Wildcat 42. Four straight passes failed to pick up a first down and a punt went over the goal line. A return punt was short and again the Tornado was trying for a touchdown from within El Dorado territory.

One pass connected for a first down on the 35 but there the drive sagged and El Dorado took over on downs.

Substitution: El Dorado Barker Ogden, Daugherty, Gray, Scritchfield, Haynesville; Tinsley, Wooten, Paik, Scouting Touchdowns Reece 2, Blythe. Points after touchdown Reece 2, Points El Dorado 5 for average 28 yards; Haynesville 7 for average of 31 yards. First downs El Dorado 12, Haynesville 7. Officials—White (Uchita) Referee—Mason L. SU) Umpire—Wardley Oklahoma—Holmes, Arkansas. Timekeeper, Oliver.

spots and only through the center were Peace and Clutch able to pick up any yardage.

The latter gained more ground than all the other Tornado backs and did all the passing. Outside of the touchdown scored from far out the only real threat to the El Dorado goal line came in the fourth quarter when the Cats were playing for time.

An intricate play in which three men handled the ball went haywire

Sparks Begin to Fly Due to Shorts Circuit

MAYFIELD, Ky.—The question whether the wearing of shorts by men and women tennis players is "indecent and detrimental to the morals of the community" is one for the city council to decide.

A complaint was lodged by two Baptist ministers, who said most of the players were shorts while playing at Harmond playground's courts.

Fierce Artillery

(Continued from Page One)

ing of a British destroyer by a German submarine was announced in an official communique Monday as German military leaders were reported preparing for a prolonged war in the Western front.

The communique did not identify the destroyer, gave no details of the sinking, but declared maritime warfare was "yielding good results."

The same announcement said eight French warplanes had been shot down during air fights in the West, where, it added, there had been "reconnoitering activity and artillery activity on both sides" at various undisclosed points.

Battle At Sea
BERGEN, Norway.—Inhabitants of Algori island reported Monday afternoon that unidentified ships had been engaged in heavy cannonading off the coast of Norway since 6 a. m., leading them to express the belief that a naval battle was underway.

The battle—if such it was—was apparently moving closer to the coast, the said. The concussion of large-caliber guns shook houses on the island.

NEW THEATRE
LAST TIME MONDAY
ROBERT TAYLOR
MARGARET SULLIVAN
FRANCHOT TONE
ROBERT YOUNG — in —
"THREE COMRADES"
EXTRA JOY — WALT DISNEY'S
"THE UGLY DUCKLING"
— NEWS OF THE WORLD —

TUES. WED. THUR.
American Youth on Parade!
"THE DUKE OF WEST POINT"

THE JONES FAMILY — in —
"A TRIP TO PARIS"

FAMILIES UP TO 5 35c
FOR

COM: Gene Autry — in — "WESTERN JAMBOREE." Judy Garland — in — "EVERYBODY SING" and SERIAL.

Are There Spooks
In Your Closet?
We'll Have 'Em
Wednesday
SAENGER
See TUESDAY'S AD

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

First Conference

(Continued from Page One)

of 28 yards.

Yards gained running back punts—Hope 7 to 100 yards. Snackover 3 for 28 yards. Yards gained from scrimmage, Hope 544. Snackover 63. Yards lost from scrimmage, Hope 25. Snackover 82. Forward passes—Hope 5 out of 12 for 51 yards. Snackover none out of 4. Forward passes intercepted by Hope 1 for no gain.

Puntings—Hope 11 for 55 yards. Snackover 7 for 40 yards. Fumbles recovered by Hope 2. Snackover 2. Total yards gained—Hope 686. Snackover 81.

Roy Taylor — Yards gained from scrimmage, 147, lost from scrimmage 1. He earned the ball 13 times for an average of six yards per trip. He completed five of 10 passes. He punted four times for an average of 38 1/2 yards. Recovered 1 of Snackover's fumbles, scored two touchdowns and made 13 tackles.

Bobby Ellen—Yards gained from scrimmage, 25. He earned the ball 18 times for an average of 6 1/2 yards per trip. He completed 1 out of two passes, and punted once for 33 yards. Yards gained from returning punts, 95, recovered 1 of Snackover's fumbles, kicked off twice for an average of 25 yards. Total yards gained, 221. Scored one touchdown and made two tackles.

Joe Eason—Six kickoffs for an average of 45 1/2 yards, scored one touchdown and made four tackles. Attempted to kick after touchdown.

Charles D. Baker — Yards gained from scrimmage, 21, carried ball four times for average of 12 1/2 yards. Yards gained from returning punts, 55. Total yards gained, 76, scored one touchdown and made four tackles.

David Coleman — Yards gained from scrimmage, 1, made four tackles.

Sonny Murphy—Yards gained from scrimmage, 3, lost from scrimmage, 2, attempted two kicks after touchdown, received one forward pass for two yards, made one extra point after touchdown and made four tackles.

Jimmy Simms—Yards gained from scrimmage, 18. Carried ball once for 18 yards. Yards gained returning punts, three. Received one forward pass for 13 yards. Total yards gained, 28, scored two touchdowns and made one tackle.

J. D. Jones — Received one forward pass for two yards, made one extra point after touchdown and made one tackle.

Low Ward—Received one forward pass for eight yards.

Norman Green—Received one forward pass for 24 yards, scored one touchdown and made 11 tackles.

Tackles — Roy Taylor 15, Green 11, Bill Tom Bundy 10, Quimby 8, Calhoun 7, Breeding 5, Baker 4, Simpson 4, Coleman 4, Eason 4, Murphy 4, Stuart 2, Ellen 2, Keith 2, Conway 2, Carlson 2, May 2, L. Jones 1, J. D. Jones 1, W. Taylor 1, Simms 1, Ward 1.

Prescott to Get

(Continued From Page One)

funds from the additional one per cent tax to a National Guard armory building fund to pay the state's share of proposed WPA construction of the armory, sites for which must be provided by interested cities.

The 1939 racing meet at Hot Springs netted the fund $20,190.

Armories at Hot Springs, Texarkana, Dardanelle, Helena and Batesville and the 15th Observation Squadron hangar at Little Rock were constructed as WPA projects.

Other Arkansas National Guard armories are at Conway, Marianna, Pine Bluff, Searcy, Beebe, Harrison, Russellville, Monticello, Magnolia, Forrest City, Hazen, Clarksville, Fayetteville and Menard.

Major Harris said the $33 increase in enlisted men personnel still would leave the guard 205 men below its peace time strength. Before the increase, it was limited to 2,500 enlisted men, 219 officers and three warrant officers.

The authorization for increasing the number of enlisted men stressed that the additional personnel "is to be used to increase strength of existing units only."

Societ Dictator

(Continued from Page One)

cover. Prompt vengeance which followed the murder of his friend, Kirov, smothered of Soviet days.

No Trippler, or Miser

His energy is tremendous and inexhaustible. He personally attends to masses of detail, reads reports and the official paper, Pravda, and during his long years has been able to study his speeches with references to the classic, the result of self-education in the John Lewis manner.

Though formal education is lacking, victims have all been impressed by the scope of his current information.

Legend beyond an occasional bottle of Georgian wine, does not attract him. When he drinks, he holds it well. His pipe is a constant companion. He plays chess occasionally. Like Hitler, he appears indifferent to money. He has servants, motor cars, a country villa, books, anything he wants. But not money.

The impression of a witty, mysterious, aristocratic patronage is not borne out in the few occasions when foreigners have been able to talk to him, when he is in pleasant, cordial, and inclined to be highly glib. He must have a strong sense of humor, for some years ago when rumors were around that he had died, foreign correspondents in Berlin were calling attention to them. The alleged joking remark, "I am still alive, and not in this way," was in the calm of the other world.

Lenin and the Bolshevik revolution, Stalin organized it. Stalin is a man, not a deity, great political and administrative ability. He is realistic, practical, decisive, and successful.

Perhaps, it would be a good idea to see him. He is a man, not a deity, great political and administrative ability. He is realistic, practical, decisive, and successful.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE . . . with . . . MAJOR HOOPLE

CHURCH NEWS

The Revival Meeting
Near capacity crowds heard Evangelist J. J. Cooper at both services Sunday at the big tent, Elm and Fifth Streets. In speaking on "All Roads Closed," the Evangelist said:

"There is a city presented to the eye of faith in the blessed Bible for which every Christian heart yearns—a city towards which the saints of God in all ages have turned their eyes. What a solemn thing to miss the way to that city! We dwell in this world for some fifty, sixty, seventy, or even eight years, and if, after we have passed our little life here we find ourselves going out into a dark eternity, what a tragedy life will really be!"

Ray Walker has been leading the choir and congregation in singing the old time hymns very effectively. The service being arranged for Thursday evening will be one very effectively. The service being arranged for Thursday evening will be one in which the hymns of a hundred years ago will be featured. The old fashioned lanterns and candles will be used also.

Mr. Holloway, pianist for the party has certainly endeared himself to the people of the city through his piano playing. Hear him each night as he renders several selections before the song service begins.

A very special service is in prospect for Monday night, at which time he will give an illustrated message entitled "Do, Delect & Mr. Hyde."

Life size pictures will be shown upon the screen. The public is urged to attend this service.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

F. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it ever correct to have unlighted candles on a dinner table?

2. Should the water glass be filled to the brim?
3. If the dining room and kitchen are separated by a swinging door, should a guest be seated so that he can look into the kitchen?
4. What is a correct response when someone calls on the telephone and asks for you?
5. Should a hostess pay for a paying for the long-distance call of a house-guest?
- What would you do if—
- You are shopping and your car is making a phone call.
- Go into a booth and make a pay phone?

- Answers:
1. No.
2. No.
3. No.
4. "This is he" or "This is speaking." Or "This is Miss Smith."
5. No.
- Rest "What Would You Do" situation—No.

Our nomination for 1939's forgotten men: the Japanese and Chinese war-torn still battling in the Far East.

Nazi youth, we are told, suffer from flat feet. This goose step must be more realistic than we thought.

"PASS THE WORD AROUND!"
Ford the Best Car for 1939 is going to be the COMPH Car of 1940
YOUR FORD DEALER

STUDIO COUCHES
More than just a couch, a full, comfortable, useful when opened.
In attractive designs and colorings that will add to your living room.
Reasonably Priced

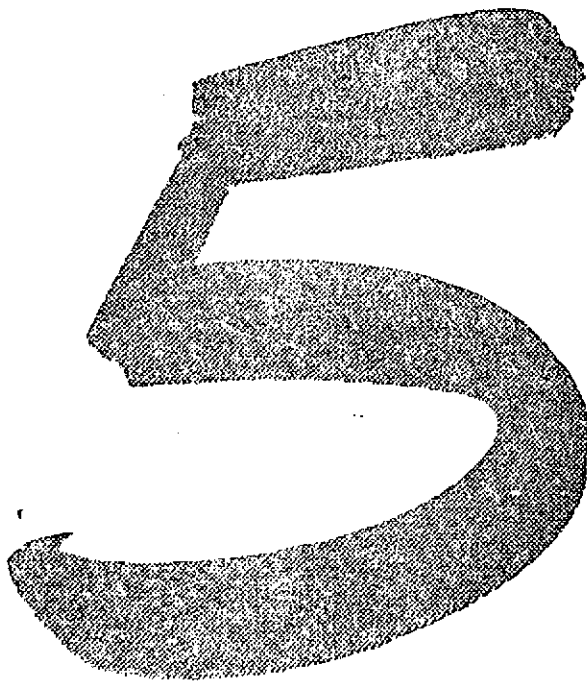

HOPE HARDWARE CO.

SMOKERS: SAVE AGAINST THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX!

Here's America's Shrewdest Cigarette Buy...
The quality cigarette every smoker can afford

●MILDER...MELLOWER...SLOWER-BURNING! Naturally, Camels have more fragrance — and taste better too. There's no fast burning to mar the marvelous pleasure of their finer, more expensive tobaccos! Yet Camel's costlier tobaccos cost less to smoke. No wonder Camels are famous as America's shrewdest cigarette choice!

Whatever price you pay per pack, it's important to remember this fact: By burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—CAMELS give a smoking plus equal to

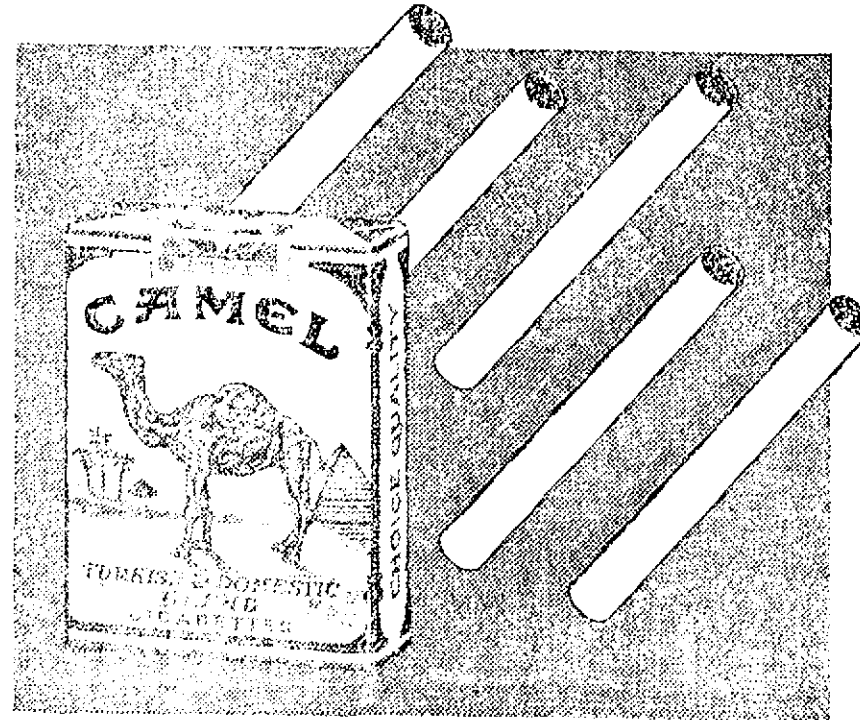

EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

Sixteen of the largest-selling cigarette brands were recently compared in impartial scientific tests by a leading research laboratory. The results:

- 1 CAMELS were found to contain MORE TOBACCO BY WEIGHT than the average for the 15 other of the largest-selling brands.
- 2 CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!
- 3 In the same tests, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER than the average time for all the other brands.

MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF—MORE PUFFS PER PACK!

Penny for penny your best cigarette buy.

CAMELS—LONG-BURNING COSTLIER TOBACCO'S

"CEDAR-CURED"
AS SHOWN IN LIFE

Garman $5.10 $7.50
SHOES FOR MEN

The fresh aroma of Cedar is in this Garman shoe, with the exclusive new Garman "Cedar-Cured" process—designed to mellow fine calfskin and make it wear better. It's the reason you'll drop in today and find a pair of Garman "Cedar-Cured" shoes.

Rephan's
"The Friendly Store"

Copyright, 1939, by J. R. Williams. All rights reserved.